Radio Flyer An American Classic

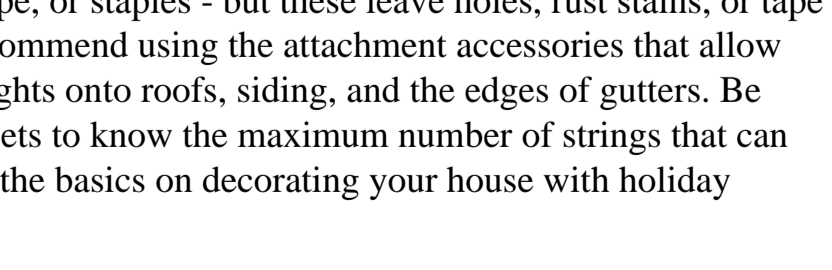

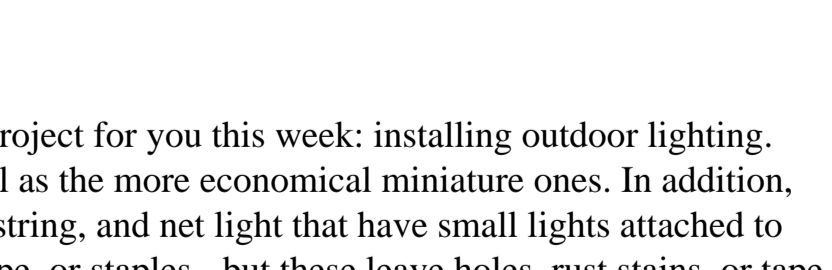

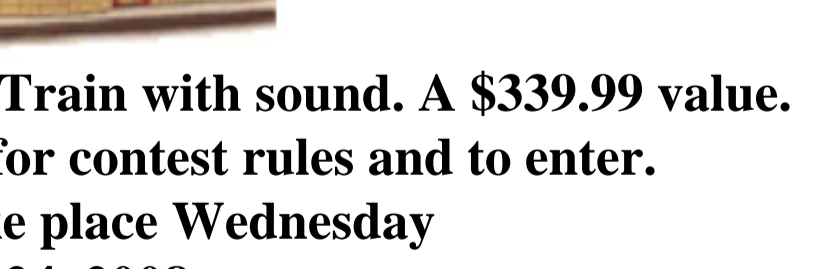

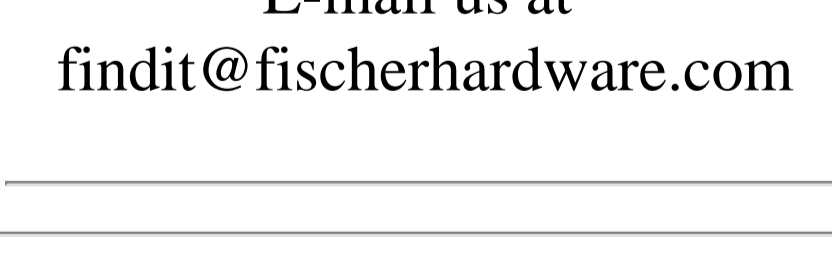

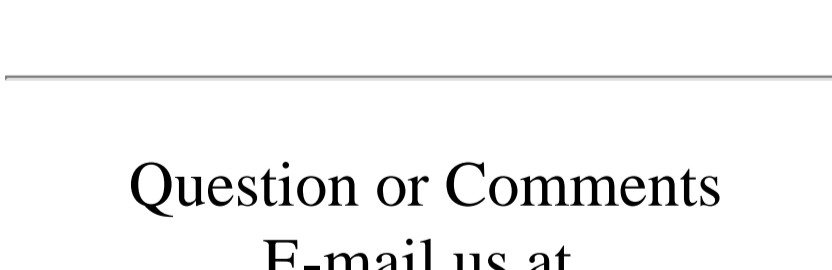

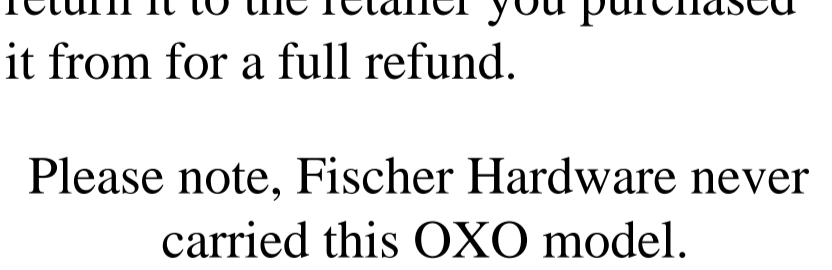

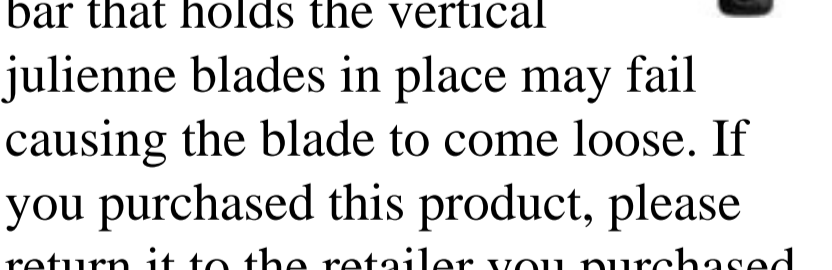

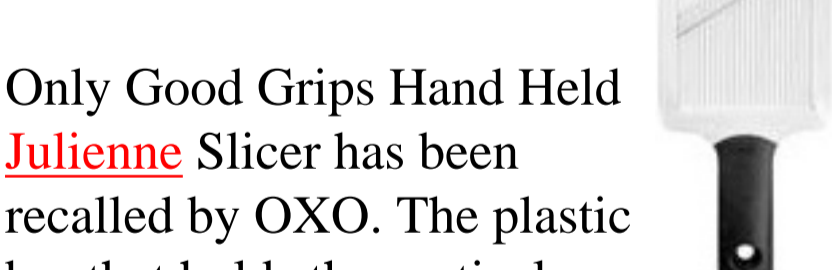

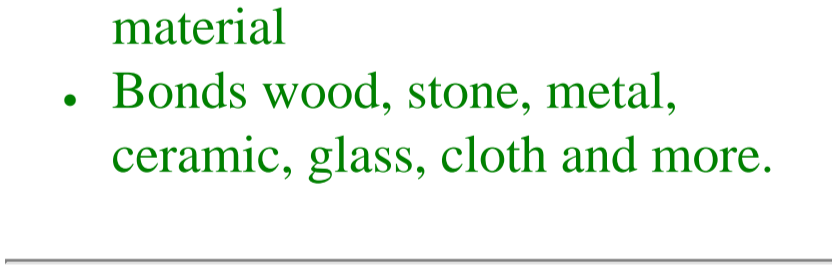

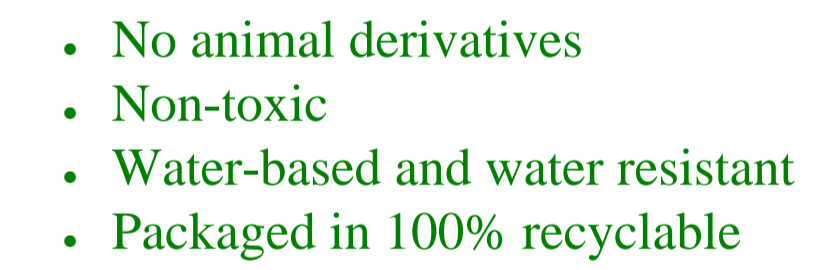

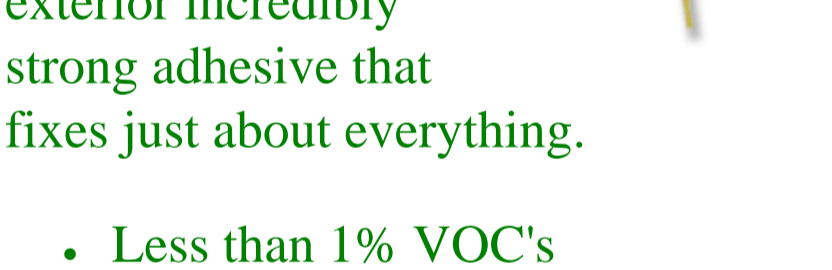

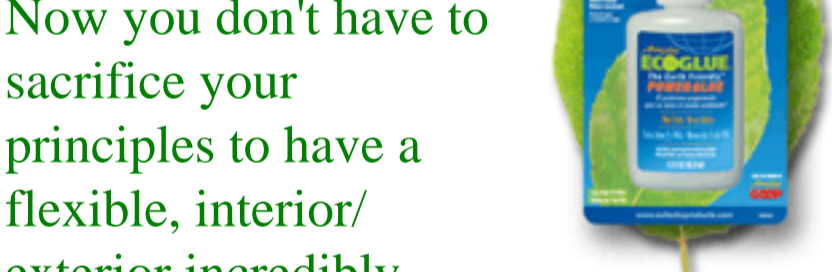

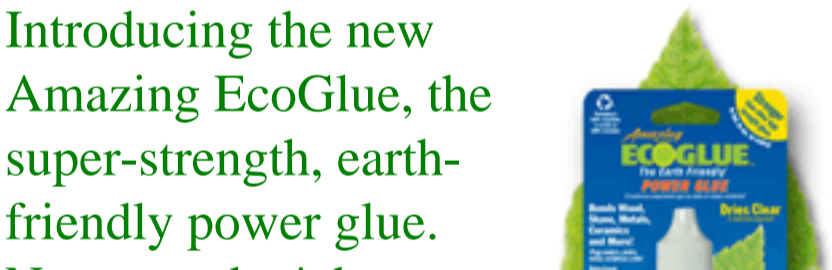

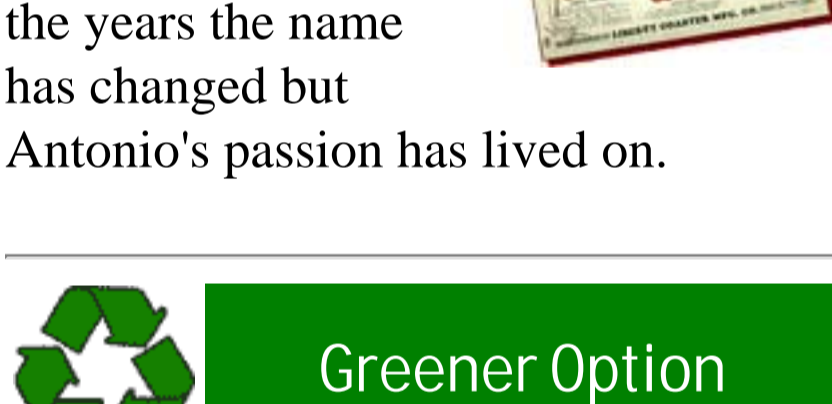

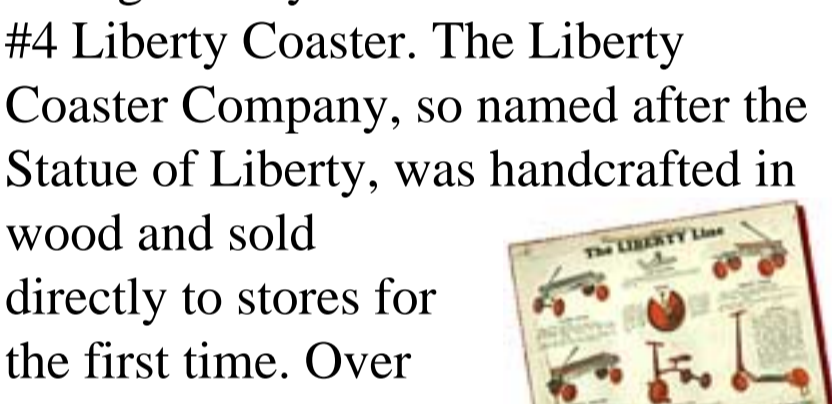

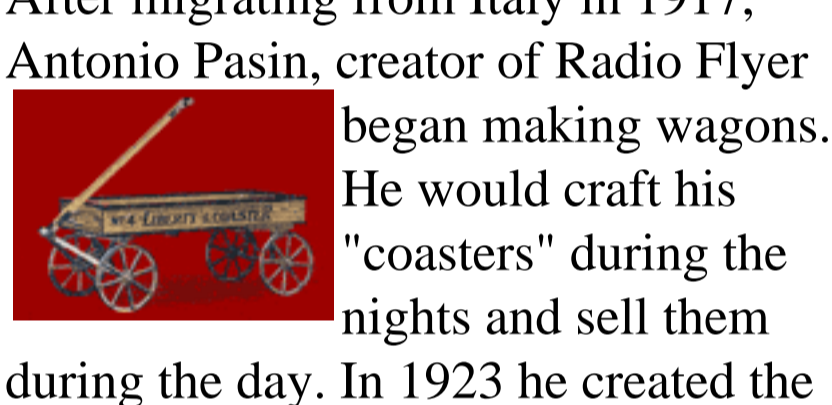

For over 90 years Radio Flyer has created innovative products with classic quality. Their beauty, simplicity and standards of safety encourage adventure, discovery and the wonders of childhood. From it's humble beginnings Radio Flyer continues to spark children's imaginations.

Not just for children anymore, the lightweight sturdy design makes these wagons a must for the gardener. They are easy to load and pull throughout the yard. These handy wagons can haul plants, dirt, mulch and much more. Our Garden Department offers a variety of models to meet your needs.

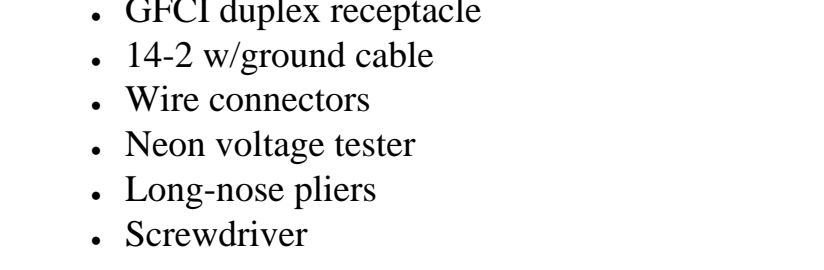

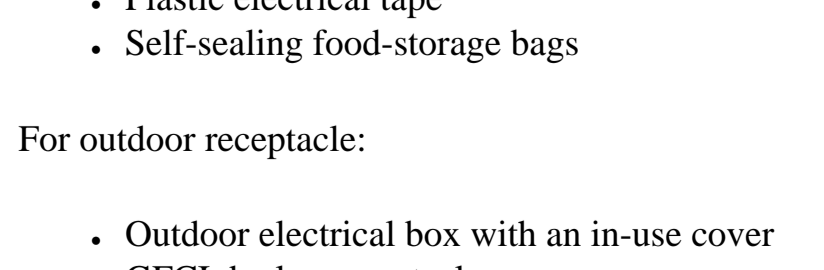

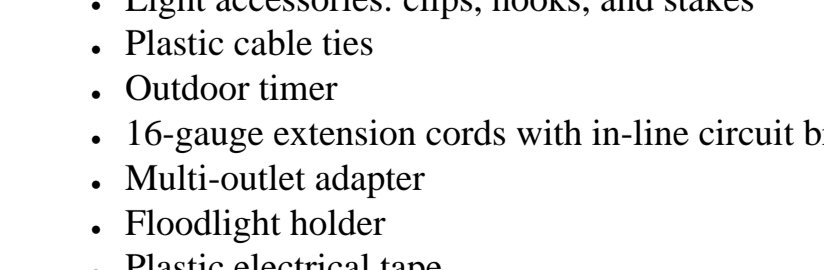

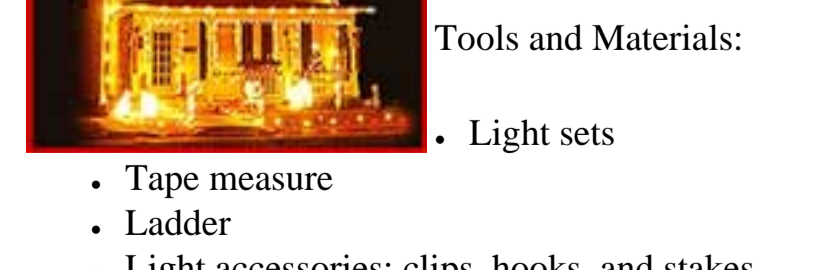

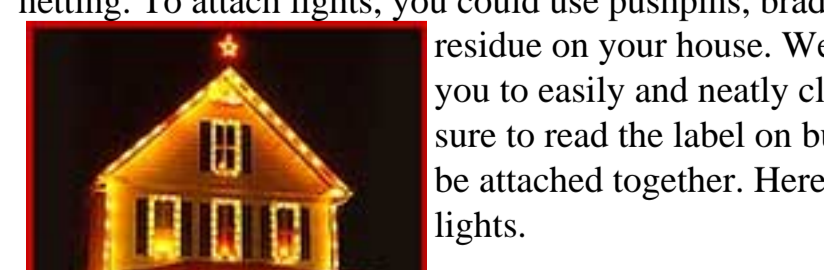

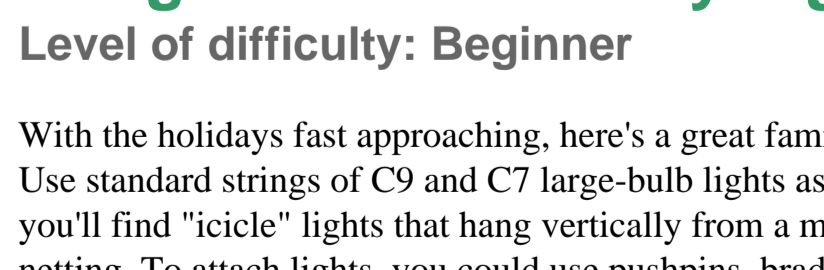

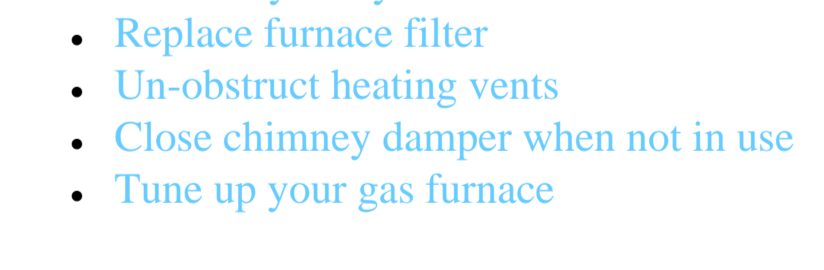

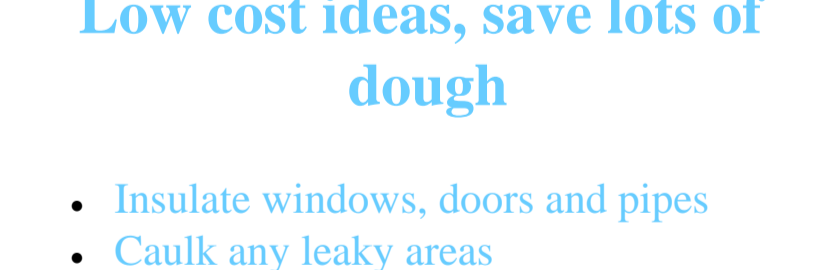

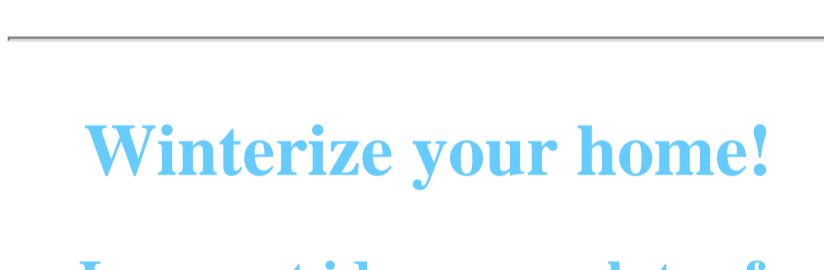

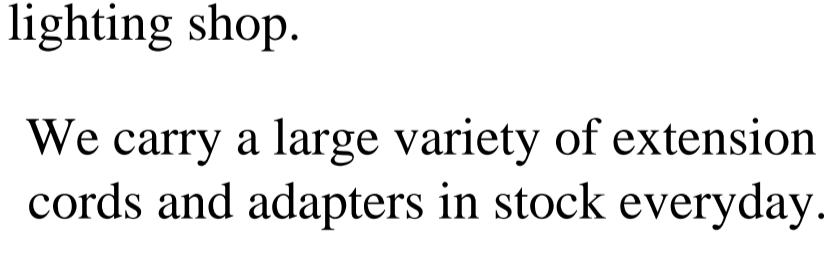

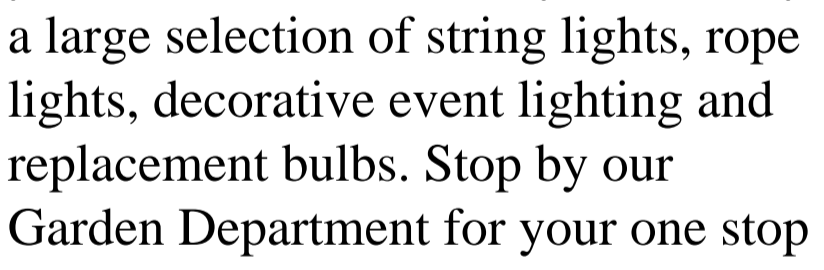

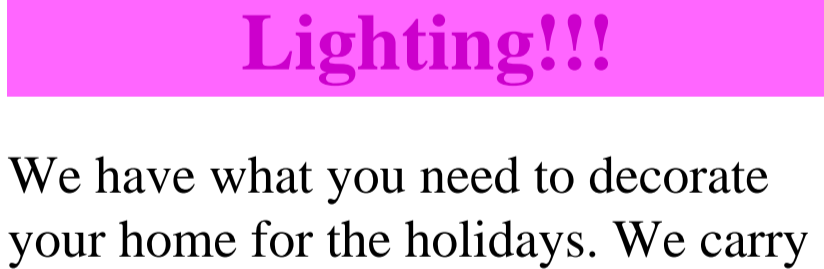

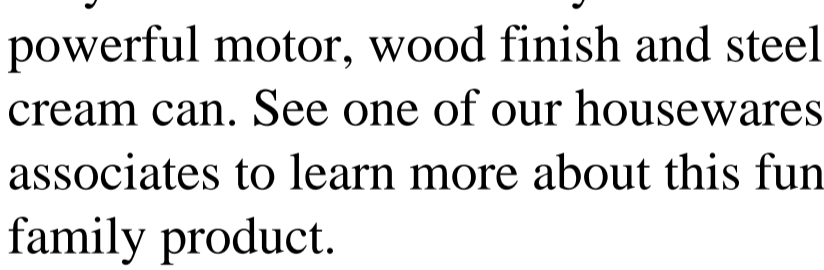

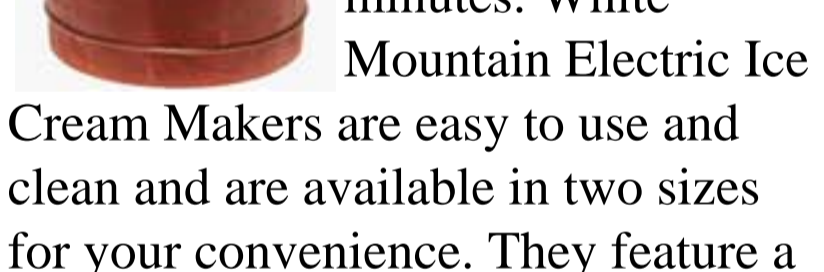

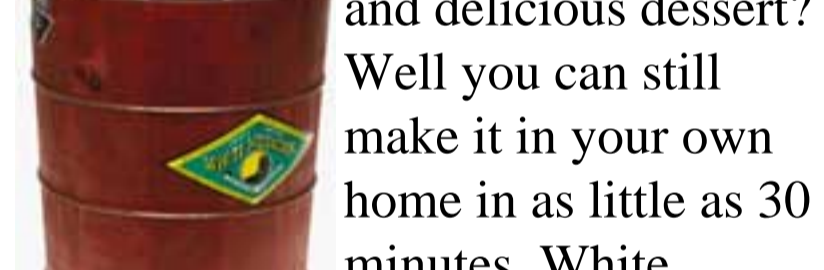

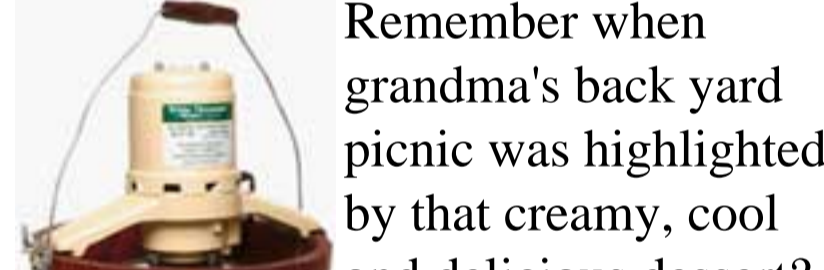

After migrating from Italy in 1917, Antonio Pasin, creator of Radio Flyer began making wagons. He would craft his "coasters" during the nights and sell them during the day. In 1923 he created the #4 Liberty Coaster. The Liberty Coaster Company, so named after the Statue of Liberty, was handcrafted in wood and sold directly to stores for the first time. Over the years the name has changed but Antonio's passion has lived on.

A Tip or Project for You

Hang Outdoor Holiday Lights

Level of difficulty: Beginner

With the holidays fast approaching, here's a great family project for you this week: installing outdoor lighting. Use standard strings of C9 and C7 large-bulb lights as well as the more economical miniature ones. In addition, you'll find "icicle" lights that hang vertically from a main string, and net light that have small lights attached to netting. To attach lights, you could use pushpins, brads, tape, or staples - but these leave holes, rust stains, or tape residue on your house. We recommend using the attachment accessories that allow you to easily and neatly clip lights onto roofs, siding, and the edges of gutters. Be sure to read the label on bulb sets to know the maximum number of strings that can be attached together. Here are the basics on decorating your house with holiday lights.

Tools and Materials:

- Light sets
- Tape measure
- Ladder
- Light accessories: clips, hooks, and stakes
- Plastic cable ties
- Outdoor timer
- 16-gauge extension cords with in-line circuit breaker
- Multi-outlet adapter
- Floodlight holder
- Plastic electrical tape
- Self-sealing food-storage bags

For outdoor receptacle:

- Outdoor electrical box with an in-use cover
- GFCI duplex receptacle
- 14-2 w/ground cable
- Wire connectors
- Neon voltage tester
- Long-nose pliers
- Screwdriver
