CFL Compact Fluorescent Lighting

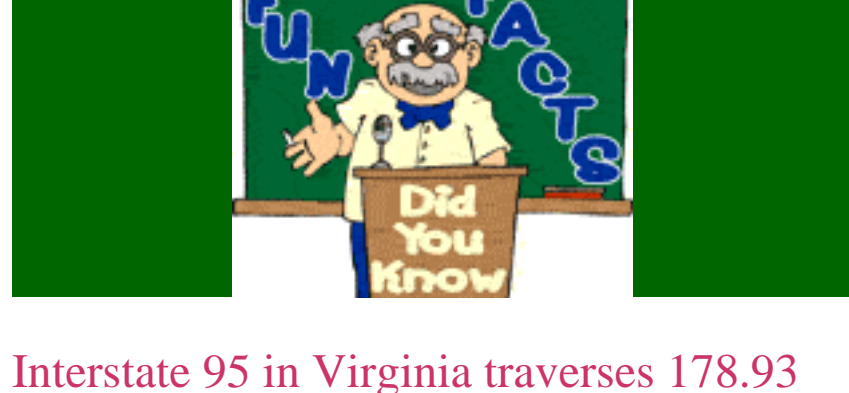

You don't have to sacrifice lighting to reap the cost and energy savings that come with switching to compact fluorescent light bulbs.

CFL's run on lower wattage than an incandescent bulb but still provide the same amount of light. If every American home replaced one light bulb with an energy star rated CFL, we would save enough energy to light more than 3 million homes for a year. That's more than $600 million in annual energy costs. Talk to one of our electrical specialists today so we may help you determine the correct replacement for those old bulbs and start saving today.

2009 Happy New Year!!!!

Interstate 95 in Virginia traverses 178.93 miles north to south. I have one word for you "gridlock". Too many cars, not enough road. Aggressive drivers, construction and weather conditions lead to more accidents on this extremely busy highway. Just last winter hundreds of commuters sat for up to eight hours on a newly constructed interchange overpass. We can't change how many commuters are on the roads, but we can offer some tips to keep you safer. Here are some suggestions you may find helpful to prepare your vehicle for emergencies:

- Cell phone-portable charger
- shovel
- windshield scraper
- flashlight
- bottled water
- snacks
- small bag of ice melt
- booster cables
- emergency flares
- first aid kit
- blanket
- small tool kit

Reminder- if your car breaks down or you are in an accident get as far away from moving vehicles as possible. Your safety is the first priority.
